All orders and enquiries are being processed as normal. See further down this page for tips on identifying which toothbrush you have. Take a look at our Other Models blog post for tips or to make a request for a full guide for your brush. Identifying your Electric Toothbrush The best way to identify the model of your toothbrush is using the "Type" number for Braun OralB toothbrushes, or the "HX" number for Philips Sonicare toothbrushes. This number is marked on the bottom or back of the handle, for example click to enlarge This is the easiest way to identify Braun OralB toothbrushes because, confusingly, Braun OralB have used the same various marketing and model names over the years across the whole range of toothbrushes they have produced including Professional Care, Genius, Smart, Pro, AdvancePower, PlakControl, SmartSeries, DeepSweep, DentaPride, Black, White, Sensitive Clean, TriZone and TriAction. These names cannot be used to reliably identify your exact model of toothbrush. These bear no consistent relation to the type of toothbrush they have been used to describe and have been reused for completely different models. To further confuse things, there are often type numbers marked on the packaging and in the instruction manuals which are different to those marked on the toothbrush handles themselves. Once you have identified what toothbrush you have then take a look at the list of toothbrush repair guides at the top of this page. It can be used to determine the appropriate parts and accessories for your toothbrush. There are two numbers on the handle which are important, the Type Number and the Production Code. This will identify which model of electric toothbrush you have. It is a 4digit number which can be found on the underside of your toothbrush and is highlighted by the red arrows below. The Type Number should also be listed on the user manual for your toothbrush. This may be needed if you contact OralB with questions about your toothbrush. The format varies depending on the model; the blue arrows below point to the production codes for those brushes. To doublecheck, you can find the charger Type Number on the underside of the charger.
